TO RESUME IRISH PARLEY MONDAY

GOOD PROGRESS IS REPORTED AT CONFERENCE

De Valera and Lloyd George Meet Again Friday at Downing Street Residence of Premier

NO DEADLOCK THREATENS IS STATEMENT OF SINN FEINER

"Hopeful of Results" Comment of Ulster Premier Upon Negotiations

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—Another meeting between Eamon De Valera and Premier Lloyd George took place Friday, this discussion of the preliminaries of the hoped for Irish peace settlement lasting about an hour and a half. At its conclusion it was announced the conversation would be resumed later, probably next Monday.

The conference was again a two-man talk. In an adjoining room, however, Sir Eamonn Greenwood, the chief secretary for Ireland; Lord Curzon, the foreign secretary; Mr. O'Brien, president of the Gaelic league in London; and Robert C. Burton of the Irish delegation, were on hand should their presence be desired.

No Deadlock in Sight

A member of Mr. De Valera's party gave definite assurance that nothing in the nature of a deadlock or a breakdown of the conference threatened at any time. Meanwhile, Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, arrived in London from Belfast, announcing on his arrival that he would see the premier during the afternoon.

Asked for an expression of opinion on the Irish situation, Sir James replied: "The less said now the better."

He added, however, that he was hopeful.

At the Whitehall entrance to Downing street scenes similar to those of Thursday were witnessed as the meeting between the British prime minister and the republican leader was in progress. A large crowd awaited Mr. De Valera and cheered him as he entered Downing street, repeating the slogan as he and his companions left at the close of the talk with Mr. Lloyd George. As the conference proceeded prayers for its success were said by the crowd in Whitehall, the men and women kneeling and reciting the Rosary.

Belfast Under Military Rule

BELFAST.—By The Associated Press.—The military resumed control of the North Queen street area in Belfast Friday morning and armored cars patrolled the streets.

At the city hall a conference was held, attended by officers of the police and the military, and by leading townsmen to discuss the situation here, in view of the disorders that had occurred during the week. Accidents developed early Thursday evening in the York street and North Queen street districts, several civilians being wounded in fighting in which the police and the military were forced to intervene. The rioting stopped abruptly at the curfew hour, but it was announced that reinforcement of the military in Belfast from adjoining areas was contemplated.

When the reports from the rioting were made public Friday morning it developed that two persons were killed during the disorders, and that between thirty and forty others were wounded.

During the disturbances the mob looted a number of public houses.

VOTE TODAY ON PLAN TO SEND BONUS BILL BACK TO COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The senate Friday entered on four hours' final debate before voting on recommitment of the soldier bonus bill as requested by President Harding, with Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts, asserting that the recommitment would be "a humiliating spectacle." The voting hour was set by agreement at 3 p. m.

WILSON DEFENDS TITLE

BOSTON, Mass.—Jonny Wilson, for the second time since he won the middleweight championship from Mike O'Dowd, will defend his title here Friday night in a ten round decision bout. He will meet George Robinson of Cambridge, a negro boxer who has a 12-round decision over Wilson to his credit, obtained if Wilson became champion.

FIFTY-FIFTH SESSION OF WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE COMES TO CLOSE THURSDAY

PROFITEERING IN ICE CREAM SHOWN IN MINNEAPOLIS

Profits as High as Nine Hundred Per Cent According to Official

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Ice cream, termed a food necessity and no longer a luxury, is being sold at excessive prices by wholesalers and retailers in Minneapolis and St. Paul, J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture for Minnesota, charged Thursday in a report following an investigation into the ice cream trade of the twin cities. Wholesalers and retailers in Minneapolis disputed Mr. Hay's findings. Wholesalers said their business must be put on a 12 month basis and that in the summer prices must be large enough to make up losses in other seasons. Both said they could see no possibility of reduction.

Mr. Hay, in his report, says retailers and wholesalers blame each other. The report charges that:

Retailers, if they sold cones for 6 cents, would make 300 per cent profit. If 10 cents is charged the profit would be 500 to 600 per cent.

Profits on some of the higher priced sodas is as great as 900 per cent.

Prices at retail are generally the same as in 1920, despite a reduction of 15 cents a gallon by wholesalers March 1, 1921.

The dealer buys ice cream for $1.05 to $1.20 a gallon, the wholesaler assuming all responsibility, delivering and packing.

Plain ice cream is sold at 50 cents to 70 cents a quart, with 60 cents the average price. At the latter price the profit is more than 100 per cent.

RULING OF ATTORNEY GENERAL DOES NOT APPLY TO LA CROSSE

In answer to Attorney General William J. Morgan's statement that soda fountain emporiums selling soft-drink and non-intoxicating liquors need not secure licenses from the city authorities, City Attorney Oscar J. Swann, Friday declared that the opinion rules only in cities where an ordinance requiring that licenses be purchased has not been passed.

Mr. Swann stated that the ruling will not apply to La Crosse due to the city ordinance which provides that operators of these establishments must secure licenses.

ADJOURNMENT TAKEN LATE IN AFTERNOON WITHOUT CEREMONY

Six Hundred Laws Enacted During Session, 48 of Which Were Vetoed by Blaine

MADISON, Wis.—The fifty-fifth session of the legislature came to a definite end at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon without ceremony. The few members present passed a resolution setting the time for ending the session, and then waited until the hour came.

The final day was marked by activity in the governor's office where seven vetoes, including the three large park projects, the Peterson school board bill, and the experience rating measure, were prepared. Appropriations aggregating $24,000,000 received the governor's signature.

Practically 600 laws were enacted by the legislature, with 48 vetoed by Governor Blaine. This represents a smaller amount of legislation than during any previous session for years.

The last days were marked by Governor Blaine's vetoes which sent down the junior college bill, the newspaper bill and other important measures to the scrap heap.

Signs Budget Bills

In the closing hours of the session Governor Blaine signed the university, normal school and charitable and penitentiary appropriation bills carrying upwards of 10,000,000 annually. He signed the bill reorganizing the administration board in Milwaukee county, he signed the bill for the establishment of an institute for training adult blind persons and giving a pension to crippled and indigent blind children.

Two bills passed the legislature late Thursday, both of particular interest to Milwaukee, and both received the approval of the governor. One gives Judge Pace's court power to handle cases arising as result of violation of liquor law and another bill fixes the age at which persons may be sent to industrial schools for delinquency at 16 years.

O. K.'s Milwaukee Pension Bill

Governor Blaine signed the Milwaukee teachers' pension bill. This bill radically changes the Milwaukee teachers' pension law and provides that 25 per cent of the income taxes collected by the state for teachers' pension purposes shall be used in administering the Milwaukee teachers' pension fund.

OVER 50 CHILDREN VACCINATED DURING THE SUMMER MONTHS

Three Hundred Vaccinated by Health Department During Last Winter

GOOD PROGRESS IS MADE TOWARD EPIDEMIC PREVENTION

About Three Hundred Additional to be Vaccinated this Summer

More than fifty children have been vaccinated since the beginning of vacation, according to announcement at the offices of the city health department on Friday. With three hundred additional children vaccinated in the winter months, the department has made noteworthy progress in the prevention of an epidemic of small-pox during the coming winter.

The printed slips given to children in the schools by the health department to the filled out by parents show approximately three hundred additional who have signified their intention of having their children vaccinated during the summer months. It was announced by the department that complaints from sore arms after the vaccination have not been as numerous due to the fact that better care of the patient has been taken following the vaccination.

The most important change in vaccination, according to the department, is that surface of the skin sacrificed in the operation is not nearly as large as formerly, because of the fact that a smaller area is exposed for infection. Greatest care is now being taken by physicians performing the operation and those in charge will testify that sore arms are approximately a thing of the past.

Arrangements for vaccination are being made by the women in charge of the children's clinic free of charge and vaccine is furnished by the department to those unable to pay the attending physician, according to a statement at the health department offices.

TWO VIOLATORS OF AUTO ORDINANCE ARE FINED HERE FRIDAY

Two cases of violation of the city auto ordinances were heard in police court Friday morning, according to a report of the local police department. Edward Christensen received the minimum fine of $10 under the existing ordinance for parking on the left side of the street. Walter Engler, driving his car without license plate received a fine of $10 and costs amounting to $12.50.

TROOPS CALLED OUT TO SUPPRESS STRIKE RIGTING IN JAPAN

KORE.—By The Associated Press.—Troops were called out Friday after thousands of striking workers in the dock yards here had charged a police cordon in an attempt to take possession of the dock yards and carry out project for their control by the workers. A number of the strikers were wounded and the ring-leaders of the movement were arrested.

PRESIDENT'S ECONOMIC PROGRAM IS OUTLINED BY HOOVER AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Ill.—Points in President Harding's program for governmental assistance in the recovery of commerce and industry were outlined by Secretary Hoover in an address here today before the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

"This great economic program of our president includes," Mr. Hoover said, "revision of our tax system, reduction of governmental expenditure, settlement of the tariff, reorganization of the federal machinery for more efficient service, reorganization of our merchant marine, refunding of foreign loans, relief of the world from our commodities, upbuilding and safeguarding of our foreign commerce, assistance to our farmers,—by mobilization of private credit, expeditious settlement of the obligations of the government to the railroads,—encouragement to development of our great power and resources, systematic elimination of waste in production and research and education upon improvements in our processes of production and distribution."

One of the most difficult problems, the secretary declared, is that of housing. Estimating that nearly sixty percent of the population are living as tenants, "he asserted that nothing is worse than an increased tenantry and landlordism in the country."

There are, he contended, three fields in which the government can be of assistance in remedying the housing situation.

"First," he said "the government must as a matter of primary duty drive every combination out of business that attempts to restrain trade. Second, the government to some degree, directly or indirectly controls or obstructs the flow of credits and it, therefore, has a responsibility toward this part of the problem. Third, the government can and should interest itself in dissemination of information, in scientific study of certain problems in materials and methods and in co-operation with the industries to receive voluntary reduction in wastes, that the costs of homes may be decreased."

TOKIO AWAITS FURTHER DATA ON THE PLANS

Reply of Japan Makes Reservations Concerning Eastern Questions to be Considered

PRELIMINARY CONFERENCE IN BRITAIN IS URGED

Plan Not Favored by Some Because it is Believed U. S. Won't Approve

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The United States has informed Japan of its ideas on the scope of the disarmament conference.

This action is intended to meet Japan's desire to know the extent to which far eastern affairs are to be discussed before she goes further in considering an invitation to participate.

Official circles here continue to evidence great confidence that a complete acceptance of the American invitation eventually will come from Tokio.

TOKIO.—By The Associated Press.—Japan's answer to President Harding's proposal for a conference on limitation of armaments, which has been forwarded to Washington, while accepting the suggestion for an armament conference, says the Jiji Chingpo today, makes reservations concerning general far eastern questions until more has been learned as to the scope and nature of the questions to be considered.

What the significance is of President Harding's call for a far eastern conference and how such a conference would affect Japan's future position in world affairs are the queries dominating public discussion. The trend of this discussion creates the impression that while Japan anticipated the call for a conference with Great Britain and the United States, and is particularly desirous of reaching a workable understanding with America, she is surprised at the inclusion of other powers in the invitation, and looks with trepidation on an international examination of such a magnitude promising to exceed preconceived ideas, into far eastern questions.

Generally speaking, the fear is voiced that Japan may be forced to play a lone hand and have another diplomatic battle on her hands, similar to that at the Paris peace conference, besides being placed constantly on the defensive as regards her far eastern rights.

Urges Preliminary Meeting
LONDON.—Continued discussion of President Harding's proposed disarmament conference by newspapers here testifies a sustained interest in the subject. The question of a preliminary conference to be held in London was given prominence by a number of newspapers here Friday which printed long dispatches from Washington, most of which indicated such a preliminary meeting would not be favored in America. It was argued in some quarters the idea should therefore be abandoned. It was made clear, moreover, that the question had not advanced as yet beyond the stage of discussion, while the engagements of dominion premiers would make it difficult to fix a time for such a conference.

The view that it was improbable the Washington parley could be held in November if the Pacific question was to be discussed in conjunction with the limitation of armaments, was expressed by the Daily Mail. The newspaper declared that neither Australia nor New Zealand would be willing to have Pacific matters discussed, at any meeting where they were not directly represented. The newspaper added that in view of the "national" status accorded British dominions at the Versailles conference, it was possible Mr. Harding would send formal invitations to Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and India.

The British league of nations union, through Lord Robert Cecil, issued a statement that the union feels a great satisfaction over Mr. Harding's action.

Japs Await Information

A tendency to place a sinister construction on the Japanese omission of mention of Pacific and Far East problems in that nation's reply to President Harding's proposal was depicted by the London Times today. The newspaper cited the traditional sagacity and moderation of the Japanese, and suggested that Japan might wish to know more of the details of plans laid for the conference before promising to participate in discussions.

The view that the proposed parley should be held in Washington was endorsed by the newspaper. In discussing the conference, the newspaper declared: "It was Mr. Harding who took the formal initiative, and to him the credit of taking it belongs."

JULY TEMPERATURES HIGHEST IN 10 YEARS REPORTS MILWAUKEE

Maximum for Period Since June First Highest on Record

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The maximum high temperature in Milwaukee from June 1 to the present date of this year was the highest ever registered for any similar period by the local weather office. The average high temperature in Milwaukee for the month of June, 1921, was 77.2 degrees, while that for the preceding ten years was 72.2.

The highest single June temperature, weather bureau records show, was recorded on June 9, 1911, the marking being 93 degrees. The maximum registration in June this year was 92 on the eighteenth day.

So far the average high temperature for July has been 88 degrees, or six degrees higher than that of a similar period covering the previous ten years.

June of this year in Milwaukee was warmer than any similar month in the history of the local weather bureau, covering records from 1871. July's heat average, the forecast officials said also promises a new record for that period.

10 Degrees Higher in "Chi"

CHICAGO.—Chicago on Friday had sweltered through the first half of the hottest July on the records of the local weather bureau, with an average temperature for the first two weeks of nearly ten degrees higher than normal. The average temperature thus far this month was 89 degrees, five degrees higher than the hottest July recorded by the bureau since 1872.

Last month's average temperature was 80.1 degrees as compared with a normal average temperature of 74. The July normal average up to this year is 79.4, which is 9.4 less than the mark established by the first half of the month this year.

POMERENE CALLS ON U. S. BANKS TO LEAD DRIVE FOR ECONOMY

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Declaring that as the banks had set pace during the world war period for the greatest thrift movement America has ever known, they should now exert their influence in behalf of governmental and home economy. United States Senator Pomerene of Ohio Friday urged the members of the Ohio Bankers' association in convention here to make strong declaration for a reduction in expenditures and consequent relief for the people from excessive taxation.

Senator Pomerene particularly objected to the proposed large appropriations for the army and navy, declaring the latter especially not to be justified in view of present conditions.

NEBRASKA FLOOD RECEDES
OMAHA, Neb.—Flood waters which followed a cloudburst Thursday in the vicinity of Harrison and Andrews in northwestern Nebraska resulting in one death, had subsided early Friday and no further fear of damage or loss of life was felt, according to advices from Crawford and Harrison to the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad company.

PARIS PRAYS FOR RAIN

PARIS.—Cardinal Dubois, archbishop of Paris, Friday called on the people to pray for rain because of the prolonged drought. The cardinal instructed the clergy to say special prayers for rain during masses for the next nine days.

TRAIN REQUIRED TO MOVE BATTERY TO CAMY DOUGLAS

Orders to Entrain Guns, Horses and Other Equipment Within Few Days Received

Ten cars will be required to move the guns, horses and equipment of Battery D to Camp Douglas.

Orders to load and ship the equipment to camp have been received by Captain John M. Holley and preparations for the movement have already been started at the armory, Fifth and State streets.

Six flat cars, two box cars and two stock cars will be required for the transportation of the animals, guns, caissons and material. The entire equipment will be shipped to Camp Douglas a few days in advance of the equipment.

The officers and enlisted men will train for camp Monday July 25.

There still being a few places open in the battery, enlistments will be received at the armory up to Monday, July 18, it was announced today.

Battery D will be in camp this year from July 25 to August 5.

MAYOR OF SUPERIOR REFUSES TO APPOINT SECOND WOMAN "COP"

SUPERIOR, Wis.—Mayor Fred T. Baxter Thursday defied the state of Wisconsin to compel him to appoint a second policewoman on the local department as required under a law by Governor Blaine. This is the mayor's second clash with the state authorities. A year ago he refused to enforce the state dog law, contending that it was an unnecessary hardship on boy owners of canines. The objectionable dog law has since been repealed.

BODY OF H. ROONEY, KILLED IN FRANCE, REACHES HOBOKEN

The body of Henry Rooney, son of Thomas Rooney, 217 North 11th street, who was killed while in the service in France, has arrived at Hoboken N. J., according to a message from the war department to Mr. Rooney. The father asked that the remains be sent to La Crosse at once.

C. H. RAWLINSON IN FIRST APPEARANCE IN ROLE OF GRAN'PA

Behold Charlie Rawlinson as a grandpa!

If it seems an unusual thing to contemplate, remember it is Mr. Rawlinson's first appearance in the role.

The former county clerk stepped into the grandfather ranks on Thursday, with the birth of a baby daughter to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bernatz at St. Anne's. Mrs. Bernatz is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rawlinson. She is reported doing nicely, thank you, as is Granddaughter Mary Ellen.

Grandpa Rawlinson received the news at St. Paul, where he had gone on business and is reported now on his way home to welcome Mary Ellen.

TURKISH JOAN OF ARC ORGANIZES BRIGADE OF WOMEN FIGHTERS

Organization Has Already Taken Part in Fighting With the Greeks

ANGORA, Turkey.—A Turkish Joan of Arc, Aisha Hanum, has started a woman's fighting brigade against the Greeks. The organization, called the Han brigade, has already taken part in active fighting and she is constantly enrolling new recruits.

This is the first time in Turkish history that a woman has been so militantly active. She has been dubbed by the people of Angora, "The Conqueror." Her personality is in distinct contrast to the beautiful Halide Edib Izzet, the writer and graduate of the American Constantinople College, who has been so active in Nationalist politics for two years and fled to the interior in March, 1920, to escape imprisonment by the Allies.

Aisha Hanum is a slim, dark woman of the east, aged 52, who wears a headscarf and believes she is inspired by the Prophet. She wears a veil but has cast aside skirts. She carries a rifle, when not at the front goes through the villages accompanied by her 15-year-old son, urging the peasants to contribute food and money and their able-bodied women to cast out the enemy stranger from the homeland.

As Nationalist soldiers, the uniform of the Han brigade corresponds to that of its leader. Indirectly, Aisha Hanum is doing as much as Halide Hanum to emancipate the Turkish woman. When she began her work, the Turkish men, who dislike to have women interfere in politics, tried to force her to return to her farm. But, by the courage born of her vision, Aisha Hanum has continued until she is recognized as an aid to the Nationalist cause.

Prized Fruits of the Philippines
Among the productions of the Philippine Islands are two delicious fruits almost unknown in the rest of the world, one of these is the durian. It grows on a lofty tree somewhat resembling an elm, is about as large as a coconut, has a thin shell and contains a creamy pulp which combines some of the flavors of a delicious custard with those of a fine cheese. To eat durians, we are told by those who know, is a new sensation worth a voyage to the east to experience. Americans in the islands call the durian "the vegetable hamburger cheese." The other rare fruit spoken of is the mangosteen. The exquisitely flavored liquid it contains can not be preserved for shipping abroad.

Skulls Ward Off Evil Spirits
In Algeria, especially in the south on the skirts of the desert, and in Tunisia charms of all sorts abound. A chameleon's skull is the most valuable specific against the manifold evil spirits which roam the air searching for easy game, and in most villages you will see a mule's skull clamped to a house-top or on a palm tree.

"So you represent the Noeac Company, do you?" "Yes, sir." "Good company?" "Best going." "What's behind it?" "All our competitors," said the agent.—Boston Transcript

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES KEPT POSITIONS BUT THEY "SOLDIERED ON THE JOB" IN ITALY'S WHITE STRIKE RECENTLY SETTLED

ROME.—The recent "white strike" of the state employees of Italy produced another series of innovations in labor disputes. The workers kept their positions and nominal did not cease to work but all "soldiered on the job" to such an extent that in many cases total abstention from work would not have wrought greater damage.

The strike besides involving the ordinary employees in the state administration included the post-office forces, which in Italy comprises both the telephone and telegraph. The employees would present themselves for work in the morning and "soldier" along with their work, getting practically nothing done until 11 o'clock, when all would leave various ministries and offices for a labor meeting.

The whole of the state's administration would then be at a standstill for several hours, while in some cases it extended for the whole day. Besides the mass meetings, there would be local meetings held in the various departments, all at the expense of the time of the government.

The greatest public inconvenience was caused by the attitude of the postal employees, including the telegraph and telephone staffs. Dismissal was threatened those who attended the daily labor meeting but that threat only partially succeeded in restoring discipline. Telephone service was practically at a standstill. Persons would attempt to get the centrals for hours and would finally give it up in despair. Occasionally, a central operator would answer but there was never a guarantee that the connection wanted would be given.

New York seems worried by her Italian flag.

Will the New Tariff Bring Better Times?

Six days a week, from January until June 29, Republican tariff-makers labor on a bill intended to "become the Magna Carta for the perpetuation of our American standard of living and to be the constitution of a uniform and universal prosperity," only to be informed by one of the most influential and regular Republican dailies of New England, that if their bill were to be made law now "we should probably find ourselves on the edge of a deeper plunge into public and private adversity than we have yet taken." Democratic critics concentrate upon the effect which they think the tariff schedules proposed by Mr. Fordney would have on the consumer. They are "extortions," says one; they "will victimize the consumer," declares another. "Vicious," "monstrous," "indefensible" are other characterizations coming from papers which dislike a protective tariff on general principles. On the other hand, the chairman of the committee that drafted the bill modestly disavows having produced a panacea for all national ills, yet ventures to "predict with great confidence that its effect upon American industry and American labor will be entirely beneficial."

For a full account of the tariff fight that is raging in Congress and in the public press, don't miss reading the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for this week, July 16th.

SAVE TO UTMOST

WHEREFORE he is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by Him, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them.—Hebrews 7: 25.

Inseparables

HOW can there be disarmament without a league of nations?

Not "the" League necessarily, but some sort of a co-operative establishment that will be in essentials very much similar? Incidentally, some formula that will fulfill the purpose of Article X would seem to be an indispensable adjunct of any viable disarmament agreement.

Article X provided for mutual guarantees of the territories of all the members of the league against external aggression, whether from league members or non-members. Is not this an inevitable requisite for any sort of disarmament? Will any nation lay down its only existing means of defending itself until it has the assurance of all possible attackers that they will respect its rights and territories? And this is obviously nothing else than a mutual guarantee, which is the same thing as Article X, although perhaps the pledge may be put in different phraseology.

The League of Nations exists entirely as a contract between nations to perform certain express undertakings, through the agency of a certain machinery stipulated in the contract. There can be no disarmament without a similar contract. If the disarmament conference gets anywhere at all, it will do so only by following in the course of the League of Nations. Perhaps it would be better to leave this feature of the situation to be pointed out after the conference succeeds, because of the opposition which the name "league of nations" encounters in American sentimentalism. If Mr. Hearst or Mr. La Follette or some other opponents of the league start after the disarmament conference they will find excellent soil for sowing distrust of it in the suspicion already created against the idea of international co-operation. But that might not be as safe as damning the "Wilson League". Disarmament is a magic phrase to which all peoples attach enormous importance. Perhaps, in their interest in disarmament, they will come to realize that disarmament means international co-operation—a league of nations—and that it cannot be had on any other terms.

Let us hope so, at least.

A New Deal

POSTMASTER GENERAL HAYS has organized his welfare department for postal employees and a big insurance executive from New York has taken the job of running it without pay.

There are 300,000 employees in the department and it is no reflection on other government employees to say that taken as a whole they are the hardest worked and most loyal men and women in Uncle Sam's service. They have never received the consideration that they have deserved either in wages or working conditions.

It speaks well for the intelligence and fairness of the new postmaster general that he not only appreciates their situation, but that he is translating this appreciation into terms of practical relief. The welfare department may be a small beginning but it is in such contrast to the government's previous attitude of demanding everything and giving nothing that it deserves the commendation of the public.

Physical Citizenship

SHERILL, N. Y., recently organized city, will dig its sewer system by the labors of its citizens. Four hundred men, "including doctors, lawyers, merchants and at least two clergymen" have volunteered to ply pick and shovel to get the pipes underground. Probably they will make play of it and enjoy it in spite of uncomfortable blisters and stiff muscles. Work is play and play is work, depending on the frame of mind in which one tackles it. Sherill's system is primitive, but it has its advantages over modern methods of municipal improvement. It's going to give the whole town, for one thing, a vital interest in the community and in that sewer, particularly. Everyone will feel his personal stake in it much more deeply than if his contribution was merely signing a check to pay his tax-bill. He'll fight for proper administration of the sewer system. He'll have new roots in the community that, as a more or less willing taxpayer, he would never have put out. The world has lost, as well as gained, by the "improvements" of progress which make life more complex as well as more comfortable and convenient. Our communal responsibilities have been rendered so light and easy of discharge that we have too much time to think of our individual grievances. It is harder to be a good citizen nowadays because citizenship is so easy.

The Best Conservation

NEW ZEALAND has long been noted for her laws designed to throw the protecting arm of the government around the children. She has led the world in legislation of this character. As the people of New Zealand have sowed so have they reaped.

Figures just given out by the United States Bureau of Public Health, show that the infant mortality rate in this enlightened British colony is the lowest in the world. It has been cut in half during the past forty-five years.

That is the kind of conservation worth boasting about. It is the kind of conservation that might well occupy the attention of official Washington to a far greater extent than it does now or ever has. If there is any explanation that really explains why America instead of New Zealand should not lead the world in conserving child life, we should like to have it.

Coal's To Go

LONDON.—Within a few years coal will be a back number as fuel. Fast ocean steamships, railway trains, industrial plants, will all burn oil.

That's what progressive industrialists and scientists are saying here. They have been talking oil for years. But the British coal miners' strike which shut down mines in the United Kingdom for more than two months brought the matter to a head.

In the last few weeks of the coal strike the use of fuel oil increased enormously. The result has been a number of inquiries from railways, steamship lines and industrial plants, not only in regard to oil itself, but burners in which to use it.

There is little difference in price between coal and oil. But oil is more economical because much labor is saved in stoking.

There is no prospect of the oil supply running out very soon. There's plenty of it on the market and new fields continually are being opened.

Colombia, Ecuador, Costa Rica, Venezuela, the United States and northwestern Canada furnish abundant oil fields.

There is plenty of oil in Mesopotamia, but the wells were damaged in the war and have not yet been put back on a productive basis.

In Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

The La Crosse Outcasts will disband following the game Sunday unless the fans of La Crosse raise $1,200 in the meantime. At present there is just enough in the treasury to meet the expenses of the club until Sunday.

Beginning Monday all automobile owners here must pay an annual license fee of five dollars. The new state law provides that the revenues from licenses be diverted from the state treasury and distributed to the local treasuries throughout the state in proportion to the number of machines registered in such communities.

Kreutz's band, under the leadership of Prof. George Balmert, Wednesday serenaded Joan Salzer at his cottage near Eagle Bluff. The band went to the pleasure resort in the Sunbeam with Adolph Schroeder at the helm.

Spontaneous combustion in the basement of the Holway Auto garage, Fifth and State, came near resulting in serious damage this morning. Prompt action of the fire department got the flames under control.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A plan is being formed by the local T. M. C. A. to establish free baths and a swimming pool at Pettibone park.

After being closed down a week for annual repairs the J. B. Funke candy factory resumed business this morning. The full crew of girls was given employment again.

Joseph Bartl, messenger at the German-American bank during the past two years, has been advanced to assistant bookkeeper. R. Alfred Anderson, son of Rev. Anderson, will succeed him as messenger.

Robert Nixon, La Crosse, will represent the Schaghticoke Country club at the golf tournament to begin at Jamesville Thursday. He is the only one entered from this city.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

M. F. Mahoney has resumed his work as manager of the North La Crosse branch of Odlin J. Owen's store. He has recently returned from Chicago.

The common council went with the boys of Station No. 4 to look into the matter of building a new fire house for them on one of the city lots on Berlin street. It is confidently expected a new one will be built.

A ten cent bed house will be opened this week on Mill street by Mr. William Kaufman, the proprietor of the State street bed house.

The school census just completed shows that La Crosse has 2,944 boys and 4,148 girls of school age. There are 1,173 children of school age employed in the city.

It is said to be a settled fact that the Illinois Central railway will be built to La Crosse and that the terminal will be built at North La Crosse.

NOBODY'S DARLING

By MARITHA McCOLLOCH-WILLIAMS

"That's this?" Warren asked, blocking the way of the shaggy figure in front of him. Apparently it had the look of a grizzly, so distinct was the crown from the spread of shoulders. But with a jump of thick home-spun legs, outlines were matters of faith rather than sight. This was true of the whole company—of gay youths gathered for a "phantom party," wherein sheets, pillow and bolster cases, napkins and such small deer, had been impressed for masquerade duty.

"This is—no, this ain't—nobody's darling," the gruffie answered in plaintive falsetto; "I ain't fat—not a little bit—but nobody loves me either week days or Sundays."

"What a shame—if there's enough of you to love," Warren returned, making a fumbling clutch at a shrouded arm. "Let's feel; I thought so," as his fingers identified buttons gleamingly masculine. "Sonny, you should not begin to deceive this early. You're hardly more than a cock sparrow."

With that he tried to swing the gruffie across his hip—but not with amazing persistence. His captive writhed, rolled like a ball from his hold and set a huge heavy heel upon his instep, panding out, "Let go, unless you want a hole stamped in your socks Sammy Warren."

"Let's see your socks," Warren began bending and grabbing the foot. At his touch it was jerked free of the heavy shoe, revealing itself, small, dainty, unmistakably feminine—its owner the while whispering angrily: "Now you've done it—spoiled my fun all evening."

"Put on your shoe and come out on the piazza—nobody saw your foot," Warren countered, dragging the girl away. Giggles followed them, in the encounter her high-spiked head-dress had got away, letting the short droop like a court train over one elbow and falling scantly below the other. The wearer tugged spitefully at it, saying under breath: "I'm a sight—I know I am—and they pick on me—when I'm all set."

"Let them—no matter who they are," Warren said soothingly. "Tell me your name and I'll say enough sweet things to make up."

"Not if I keep my hearing," Ugh! I hate sweet things," the girl flung back. Warren laughed softly. "I see. Nobody has ever told me," he said. "Bling bling! I know you're pretty, even through a linen sheet."

"I'd ram you for that, if only I were a ruler," she said, and lowered her head. "For making fun of me. You know I'm Zarah Zell, and everybody says, 'nobody's darling' to her."

"Hearsay is not evidence," Warren all but whispered, parting folds of linen to look into a pensive, eye-shining face, now illumined by deep shining eyes and dashed with damask bloom. Dimly he recalled the Zarah Zell he knew in the past. The name, he was certain, was "It's lucky you didn't swear to what you said," he went on. "You'd have been rank enough. Every girl he loved was married. I can't say you're not one of them half so beautiful."

"Exult makes a heap of difference in a girl," Zarah answered, with an artless pique. "The phantoms were in full tide of love, now I'm alone. I've been over the lamp-lit lawn, by two or three, or blotches of curious half dozens. Zarah looked at them through fingers held close. "I don't know," she said. "It's a mighty fine party."

"Shall we go out to play with the rest?" Warren asked. She paused to say in Warren's ear. "Can you understand how it feels to be finer than everybody else? That's the way you have been the commonest looking."

"I don't know, can you?" from Warren.

"Heavenly—I'm feeling it now," Zarah whispered. "You see, at all the other parties I've looked like a rag-tag-bunch in granny's line. I'm not a beauty, but I'm a beauty."

"I don't know, can you?" from Warren.

WOODCRAFT TIPS FOR OUR HIKERS

Old and experienced woodsmen long ago made extensive observations and formed a set of very reliable weather signs that every boy and girl should know—especially if he or she is fond of hiking and camping. To foretell the weather on a hike or in camp often keeps one from getting a bad wetting. The weather signs listed here have to do with observations on the direction of the wind.

In the summer a south wind brings heat, in winter you can expect a thaw. The south wind, in summer, may mean a shower.

An east wind brings raw, wet weather with it generally, and is very mean. In the summer look for rain, but in the winter be ready for snow, sleet or a cold drizzle.

North winds bring cool weather, and even cold.

The west wind brings with it good, fair weather, and as long as the wind does come directly from the west you can be sure the weather will stay fair.

Learn these things and you can guard against being caught in a shower, or, in winter, a bad snow storm.

Then, there is a little rhyme that is not hard to remember, and is useful in forecasting the weather. It goes:

"Evening red and morning gray,
Sends the traveler on his way.
Evening gray and morning red
Brings the rain down on his head."

Developing Photographs.

I manage to earn the most of my spending money for summer vacation and for winter at school, by developing other people's photographs during the summer.

Small cards have been printed bearing the message that I am developing photographs, giving the price, stating that I furnish "twenty-four hour service," and my name and address, and these I have passed out to my neighbors and friends.

A drug store has also consented to display my hand-lettered sign in their window, and the proprietor is allowing me to develop films that he gets. He acts as an agent for my business, you see.

Not only is this a good money-making proposition, but it is fun. I like to guess what the pictures on the film will be and then see how close I come to being right.—Contributed by J. H. L.

DAILY HARDKNOT FROM DICK FRAY

Birth of a New Ambition

Perhaps it was four o'clock in the afternoon, or maybe it was only three, but the time doesn't matter much. It is enough for us to know it was toward the end of the afternoon when it all happened.

Dan Goodman and Ned Fox had walked several miles up the pebbly bank of Barker's creek, exploring the little clay cliffs that lined the shore, picking up queer rocks for Dan's curio collection, and, in general, striking up quite a friendly acquaintance.

As the afternoon grew old, the two boys turned back toward the cabin.

Ned Leaves Dan

Almost the whole distance back to camp had been traversed—in fact the two were but about a half mile from the cabin and directly opposite the whirlpools of Barker's creek, when high up in the side of the cliff that bordered the stream, Dan spied a glistening rock that he determined to get for his curio collection.

"I'll tell you, Dan," said Ned as Dan threw down his coil of rope and prepared to climb the cliff for the rock, "I'll have to get back to the cabin and get the bunch rounded up so we can start for home, so I won't wait for you. You know the way to camp. You don't mind, do you?"

Dan Takes A Tumble

"Why, of course not," laughed Dan, and with a cheery "so-long" Ned set off on his shore.

Using his climbing stick as a brace, Dan climbed clay embankment. He was almost within reach of the peculiar stone when—his foot missed its hold in the crumbling clay! He tumbled backward to the pebbly shore of the creek.

Hardly had he landed with a thump than his attention was quickly attracted to the whirlpools of Barker's creek.

To The Rescue!

"Help! Help! The rapids! Help!" Dan looked. It was Bert and Midge in the canoe, wild-eyed and shouting. As he looked the canoe, pitching from side to side in the rapids, dangerously scuffed a projecting rock. A crash! The rock had torn the canoe's side!

Dan thought quickly. He jumped to his feet. He grabbed his coil of rope. One end he held in his left hand. With the other hand he swung the coil over his head and let fly toward the sinking canoe and its occupants. As the rope swished, Dan's heart was in his mouth. Would the line reach the two boys? And if it did, would he be able to pull them to the shore? He shouted loudly for help.

Dan Takes A Tumble

"Why, of course not," laughed Dan, and with a cheery "so-long" Ned set off on his shore.

Using his climbing stick as a brace, Dan climbed clay embankment. He was almost within reach of the peculiar stone when—his foot missed its hold in the crumbling clay! He tumbled backward to the pebbly shore of the creek.

Hardly had he landed with a thump than his attention was quickly attracted to the whirlpools of Barker's creek.

To The Rescue!

"Help! Help! The rapids! Help!" Dan looked. It was Bert and Midge in the canoe, wild-eyed and shouting. As he looked the canoe, pitching from side to side in the rapids, dangerously scuffed a projecting rock. A crash! The rock had torn the canoe's side!

Dan thought quickly. He jumped to his feet. He

AMERICAN EXPERTS PLACED IN CHARGE OF PERU SCHOOLS

Educators Engaged to Develop
New Educational System for the Nation

LIMA, Peru.—Virtually the entire educational system of Peru is now under the direction of American professors who were called here recently to complete an educational reform movement begun ten years ago.

The foreign educational experts are to develop the system from the primary grades to the university, in accordance with the special needs of each section of the country.

Doctor Harry Bravin Bard, formerly connected with the Philippine educational mission, was chosen by President Leguia to direct the reorganization. Doctor Bard has been appointed general director of education and under him are more than 20 American professors.

The country has been divided into three regions. The regional directors are John K. Breedin, of South Carolina; William W. Andrews, of Massachusetts; and Glenn J. Caulkins, of Washington. F. B. Spaulding, of Vermont, is director of libraries; J. M. Wilson, of Illinois, is director of examinations and studies and F. L. Crane formerly director of the Philippine school system, is director of school house construction.

A new university called the University of Technical Schools has been created. Its branches are engineering, agriculture, pedagogical sciences, industrial arts and commerce. The last three branches are respectively under the direction of H. G. Lull, of Kansas; E. C. Phillips and Dr. William E. Dunn, formerly of the University of Texas.

Fourteen other American professors have been distributed among the secondary colleges.

CROP REPORT

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Synopsis of weather and crop conditions in Wisconsin for the week ending Tuesday, July 12th. Heavy scattered rains have occurred during the week in all parts of the State and crops were much benefited, particularly in the north. The rains came too late to help small grains in the south. Hail and high winds caused some damage to grains in a few localities. Corn is doing fine, potatoes fair to good. Small grains are being harvested and are generally a small crop. The winter wheat harvest is about completed in the south. Oats are doing well and are being cut in the extreme south. Haying is in progress in the north-west and about completed elsewhere. The second crop of alfalfa will soon be ready to cut in the south. Pastures are burned out on high land and some feeding of cattle is necessary. Berries are light. Cranberries are doing fine. Cherry picking is in full swing. Tobacco is in excellent condition. Truck fair to good.—Jel. W. P. Stewart, Meteorologist.

A Cure for Sleeplessness
The habit of going to bed and lying awake is something to be dreaded. An authority on nervous diseases gives this advice. When sleep ceases to be a matter of habit, it should be cultivated. It is a good plan to read a few pages of a light book just before bed-time, in order to compose the mind after the day's excitement. Poetry is good for this. If there is a feeling of hunger, drink is better than solid food; but liquors are not to be thought of—they are too stimulating.

On a farm near Berne, Switzerland, there is a puzzling freak of nature in the form of a tree from which flows a continuous stream of good, cold drinking water.

NOTABLE WORK OF REFORESTATION IN PROGRESS IN CHINA

Over 130,000,000 Tree Shoots
Planted During the Year

PEKIN—Reforestation in China made noteworthy progress in 1920 through the activities chiefly of the provincial governments. More than 130,000,000 shoots were planted and cultivated by twenty-one reforestation institutions in central and north China at a cost of a quarter of a million dollars in Chinese currency.

The government railways, anticipating their need of timber, have also taken steps to plant trees along their rights of way. One alone, the Kansu-Hainan railway, is in process of planting 4,000,000 trees, according to the Bureau of Economic Information.

Reforestation has been extended to nearly all the provinces, with especially promising stations in Shantung and Kiangsu. In the latter province, at Nanjing, there are approximately 6,000 acres devoted to the cultivation of 25,000,000 trees. In this station students are given a three years' course in forestry and later are sent to various districts to specialize.

There are three gardens in Shantung which occupy some 700 acres. The largest and most prosperous station is in the north of Kiangsu near Yangchow where 3,000 to 4,000 trees are grown every year. Special reforestation schools have been established in Anhui, Chekiang, Hupoh, Szechuan and Shansi. It is estimated that twenty-five percent of the 1,800 hsiens or counties in China are now engaged in this work which the Chinese hope will in due course transform many of their barren tracts into flourishing forests.

Arbor Day when all classes of the population are encouraged to plant trees, is pointed to by the Bureau as an indication of China's awakening to the value of reforestation.

A Divided City
The city of Walk is situated on the boundary between Estonia and Latvia and the two parts of town are divided by two barbed wire fences with a piece of land between which is known as "No Man's Land." This part is not claimed by either country for the reason that when ever succeeded to the title would have to clean it up and this is said to be some job.

Passage from one side of town to another is attended by all the inconveniences of leaving one European country and entering another. Baggage must be searched and duties paid and the tourist encounters an entirely different monetary system. After seven o'clock in the evening the gates are locked and it is impossible to get from one side of the town to another.

Spider That Lives in the Water
There are a great variety of spiders one of the most curious of which is that which lives almost entirely under water. It builds a dome-like nest of silk among weeds in ponds and ditches, and fills the nest with air, sealed itself inside. It sleeps until in that strange house it lives and lays its eggs. In autumn it makes another nest at a greater distance below the surface of the water, and having air that it collects around its body makes it look like a ball of quicksilver. It is the only spider that has taken to a wholly aquatic life.

It's a little man that will hide behind his wife's skirts.

Arc or Ox-Acetylene Welded Joints are Found in the WEIR

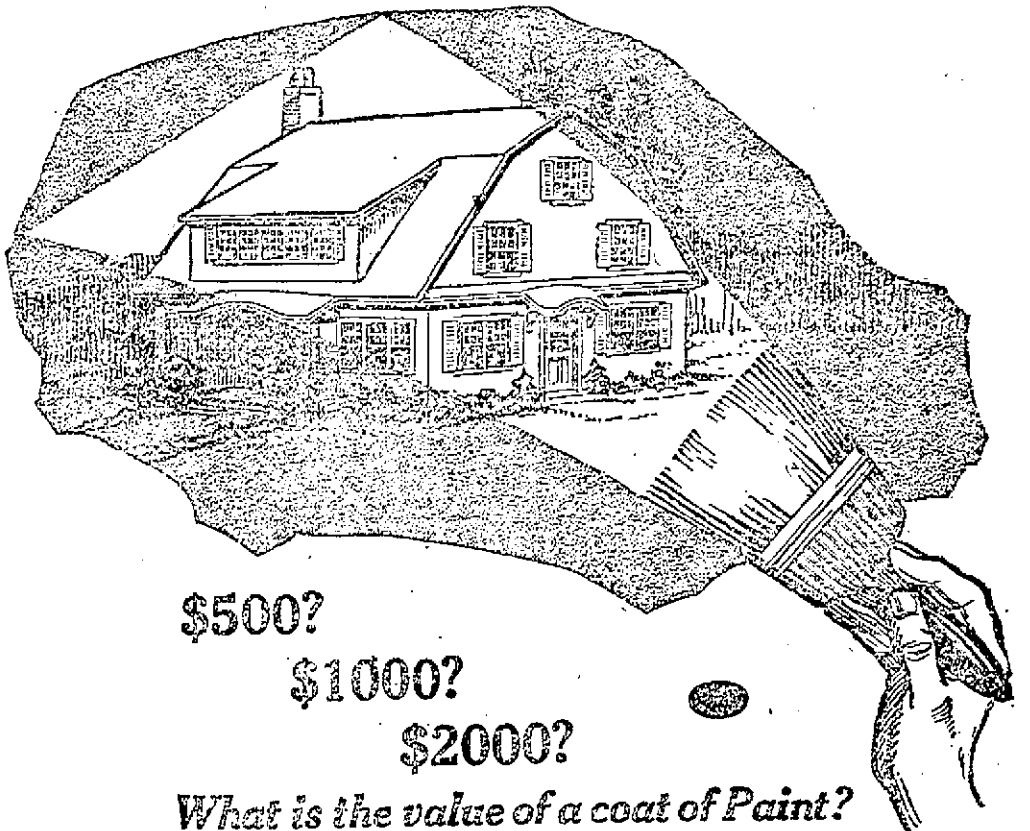

JOINTS welded by electricity or oxygen and acetylene gas actually fuse the two pieces of metal into one. Both of these up to date processes are used in the new factory in eliminating what has always been an objection to warm air furnaces—leaking joints.

The WEIR furnace is positively gas, dust and smoke tight and if this assurance is of the value to you that it has been to thousands of other WEIR users it should convince you that the WEIR furnace is the heating plant for you to purchase and thus avoid the discouraging possibility of ruined walls, draperies, pictures, etc.

Gases or soot simply cannot come from the WEIR as it is built today, and then pass thru the registers into the rooms and the materials in the WEIR stand up and continue to save fuel money many years after the price is forgotten.

What is the value of a coat of Paint?

ASK any real estate man. He will tell you that a $5000 house properly painted will immediately command $5500 to $6000 in the market—and the increase on higher-priced houses is strictly in proportion.

Isn't that a striking example of the value of good paint?

We are pretty fair judges of paint—couldn't stay in business otherwise—and we will stack Du Pont Paints and Varnishes up against any others produced in this country. Stands to reason that folks who have been making paints for over a hundred years know what is required and HOW.

Glad to show you the way to boost the value of your home to a purchaser—or to yourself. Especially yourself.

Mr. Schmidt was also named a delegate to the national convention in St. Louis in September.

START CAR FERRIES BETWEEN MILWAUKEE AND MICHIGAN CITY

MUSKEGON, Mich.—Announcement was made here Friday by officers of the Muskegon Railway and Navigation company of the completion of preliminary arrangements between the Michigan and Wisconsin states for the establishment of direct transcontinental freight service by way of Muskegon and Milwaukee, crossing Lake Michigan by car ferries.

The step was taken to avoid congestion of the Chicago terminal in transcontinental shipments, it was announced.

pension law. An attempt was made to kill this bill during closing days of the session by Senator David Jennings, Milwaukee. His efforts failed.

Governor Blaine admitted that the appropriations made by the legislature were in excess of the possible receipts. He will practice a system of economy, however, to keep the expenses of government down.

Wanted Longer Session

There were some members of the legislature who believed that the members should be called back in order to pass additional financial measures. There was a disagreement, however, as to the kind of measure which should be passed. Some of the members believed that the first highway bill should be enacted and others believed that there should be a surtax on incomes. No agreement could be reached and the legislature finally adjourned without passing any additional taxation measures.

Governor Blaine vetoed the bill giving employees of the legislature ten days extra pay. An opinion from Attorney General Morgan indicated that such a measure might be unconstitutional. Governor Blaine vetoed it.

Governor Blaine woke up Friday morning free from the cares of the legislature and said that he was planning on taking a little vacation. He expects to visit all of the state institutions during the summer months.

MRS. BEULAH PAVY
Mrs. Beulah Pavy, 74 years old, wife of H. S. Pavy, passed away Thursday morning at her home, 802 South Eighth street. Death was due to paralysis. She was born in Norway, Vermont, and moved to La Crosse in 1887. She was a member of the La Crosse Episcopalian church. Burial will be in Sparta. Friends will please omit flowers.

LIFT BAN ON CHURCH
KENOSHA, Wis.—The ban on the Holy Rosary church of Kenosha, closed several months ago by order of Archbishop Messmer, will be lifted on Sunday morning when services will be held under the direction of Rev. Father Pribyl, pastor of the St. Anthony church, here. The Rev. Terrell, whose holding of the pastorate was the question that riled the congregation and caused the excommunication of the congregation, has not been ordered back to the church.

ENGINEER SHOT BY NEGRO
MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Gustave Summerfield, an engineer for the Chicago and Northwestern road, was shot through the mouth early Friday morning in the Northwestern yards here. His assailant was said by railroad men to have been a negro who had mistaken Summerfield for a railroad detective responsible for the negro's arrest and sentence to sixty days on a vagrancy charge two months ago. The negro was released from custody a few days ago, and was seen skulking about coach yards Thursday night, employees of the road said. He escaped. Summerfield will recover.

CAROUSING AMONG STUDENTS MUST STOP SAYS MADISON JUDGE

Warns Fraternity Representatives that Prosecution Will Follow Continuance

MADISON, Wis.—Representatives of thirty U. of W. fraternities were called before Judge A. C. Hoegmann in superior court here late Thursday and advised that unless carousing among students was stopped, prosecution would be vigorously prosecuted.

The conference came after complaints from citizens of the university section who declared that there was a wave of drunkenness among students. S. H. Goodnight, dean of men, was present at the meeting, which was supposed to be secret.

Judge Hoegmann told the students that unless there was a change, John Doe proceedings would be started, followed by prosecution both under the state and federal statutes.

A similar meeting was held last winter.

FR. WHITE'S BODY LIES IN STATE IN ST. MARY'S CHURCH

Remains May be Viewed by Public this Afternoon and Evening; Funeral Saturday

The body of Father William White, who died Wednesday from the effects of a stroke of paralysis, will lie in state in St. Mary's church Friday afternoon and evening. The remains may be viewed by the public at any time after noon.

This evening a guard of honor will be maintained by the Knights of Columbus, the guard being changed at intervals all during the night. Solemn requiem mass will be said for Father White Saturday at 10 a. m. in city time. Interment will be in the Catholic cemetery.

MEETING OF TRADES COUNCIL TONIGHT IS POSTPONED FOR WEEK

MRS. KABER TOO ILL TO WALK INTO COURT CARRIED BY OFFICERS

Declares She Wants to "Tell Everything" But Lawyer Won't Let Her

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber was carried into the court room by two bailiffs Friday morning when her trial on a charge of murdering her husband, Daniel P. Kaber, was resumed. When seated she clutched the arm of the attending bailiff seated at her side, and amid sobs pleaded that she not leave her.

William J. Corrigan, Mrs. Kaber's attorney, tried to quiet her.

"I want to tell them; I want to tell them everything," she sobbed to the bailiff. "I won't let me," she sobbed to the bailiff.

FIRE STARTED TO SMOKE OUT SNAKE THREATENS TOWN

AUGUSTA, Ky.—A six-foot black snake refused to budge from his den under an old stump Friday. W. H. Winter, farmer, decided to smoke it out. Fire spread from the stump to a twenty-acre hay field. Appeals were sent to the fire department when the flames shot out in every direction.

Farmers "for miles around" hurried to the scene and with the aid of a timely shower of rain, managed to save the city.

GREEK FORCE IS WITHIN 50 MILES OF ITS OBJECTIVE

Capture Important Station on Southern Branch of Baghdad Railway

CONSTANTINOPLE.—(By the Associated Press.)—Greek troops have occupied the town of Afium-Karahissar, an important station on the southern branch of the Baghdad railway. Afium-Karahissar is about fifty-five miles south of Kutala, which has been reported to be the objective of the Greek offensive against the Turkish nationalists, which began last Monday. The town was given up by the Turks without fighting, it is said.

APPLY FOR HUNTING LICENSES NOW, IS COUNTY CLERK'S TIP

Apply for hunting licenses now and avoid the run!
That is the word County Clerk Shamus is passing on to hunters in La Crosse city and county. The licenses for the 1923 season are not ready yet, but Mr. Shamus suggests that applications be sent in now so that when they do arrive they may be mailed to applicants. Usually, a few days before the season opens the county clerk's office is crowded with hunters who all want their licenses at the same time. Under such conditions it takes several hours for a person to get a license and means a long wait in the line before the window.

HERBERT'S GREATER MINSTRELS
For the amusement public there is a treat in store, that is a genuine novelty from the fact that the entire performance is given by genuine negro talent, and is of the very highest order of minstrelsy, the company being composed entirely of negro celebrities. This is the Herbert Minstrels that will be at the La Crosse Theater Wednesday, July 20. It is not evident to you that there is comedy, originality and music in the negro race given to them by nature, and that they are full of literary, dramatic, musical, comic and master wit, and that their chief characteristic is dancing and music. The Herbert Minstrels are a combination of the old time minstrel with a sprinkling of the jazz ones of today, coupled with all the amazing quantities of a sure fire production, arranged for the purpose of disturbing the rhythm of the world. For dancing, feature or keystone is laughter, and its purpose is to dispel or eliminate all gloom from the face of the earth. All the favorite negro dances have been gathered under the Herbert banner, to serve the purpose of instilling pleasure to the patrons. At noon on the principal streets will be given the most stupendous minstrel parade of all time, and the Great Adams with it. Be sure to see it.

BIG FARM FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF TEN THOUSAND

Nich Arenz Loses Two Barns and Two Silos With Contents on St. Joseph Ridge

Fire of unknown origin destroyed two barns, two silos, farm machinery and a quantity of farm products on the farm of Nich Arenz on St. Joseph ridge, 22 miles from the city, Monday night.

The fire broke out at 5:30 in the afternoon and it is believed to have been started by a spark from a gasoline engine. The two barns and two silos with all contents, were totally destroyed. Many tons of hay were consumed.

The loss of $10,000 is half covered by mutual fire insurance.

MINGO MINE FIGHTS "FRAMED" DECLARES WITNESS AT HEARING

WASHINGTON, D. C.—R. H. Kirkpatrick, former mine foreman for the Burnell Coal and Coke company operating in the Mingo, W. Va., coal district, testified Friday before the senate committee investigating conditions there that mine owners had "framed up" false shooting episodes to procure proclamation of martial law by the governor and "so they would break the strike."

Kirkpatrick told a circumstantial story of how he and his superior officers had arranged to go out in the hills around the mine's entrance, and shoot back and forth to impress new mine workers brought in the field, and to justify a call for troops.

On cross-examination by S. B. Ayres, counsel for the operators, Kirkpatrick said that his son was an official of the United Mine workers and that he had himself been "done dirt" by the employing company.

TRAIN HITS AUTOMOBILE WOMAN IS KILLED

APPLETON, Wis.—Mrs. Robert Bloom was instantly killed and her husband seriously injured when their automobile was struck by a Chicago & Northwestern train at the Asylum road crossing here late Thursday.

Mr. Bloom, who was driving the machine, was not aware of the approaching train, according to eye-witnesses, who said that when he noticed the train he tried to turn sharply, but the train hit the back of the machine and carried it about fifty feet. Mrs. Bloom was thrown from the machine and killed.

LIST OF DON'TS FOR TEAMSTERS ISSUED BY CHICAGO SOCIETY

Anti-Cruelty Organization Gives Rules for Care of Horses in Hot Weather

CHICAGO.—Despite the coming of the automobile there are still thirty thousand horses working today on the streets of Chicago. Faithful servants they are, whose lives are hard at best particularly in the very hot weather, observes H. D. Roberts, secretary of the Chicago Anti-Cruelty society. He suggests the following "don'ts" to teamsters here and in other cities:

"Don't drive fast. The few minutes you save may cost you a horse."

"Don't put on heavy loads."

"Don't let your horse stand in the sun. Even if he has to stand for a few minutes pick out a shady place if possible to do so."

"Don't fail to water your horse as often as possible. It will not hurt him if he is worked. If you are going to let him stand for a while, only give him a small drink."

"Don't use a horse hat unless it has a canopy top. The ordinary kind is worse than none."

"If you use a sponge or cloth, see that it is kept wet. If it is dry it is worse than no protection."

"Don't fail to watch your horse closely. If he gets sick don't wait. Get him into the shade take off the harness and bridle. Wash out his mouth. Sponge him off with cold water. Put cold water or ice on his head, and send for a doctor. Prompt action may save him."

"Don't wash your horse at night when he comes in from work. Wipe him off with a damp sponge. Let him cool off."

"Don't keep him in a hot stable at night. He must cool off at night, in order to be fit for work next day."

"Don't forget that your horse is a good friend and faithful servant."

"He that he is entitled to all the care and attention you can give him."

NO KICK IN RELATIVITY

One nice thing about the theory of relativity Dr. Einstein explained to the New York reporters. Asked what he would advise the laymen to do about the theory, he replied, "Nothing at all; tell him not to worry; it won't hurt him." This is not only reassuring, but it is one of the most transparent statements so far made concerning the theory.

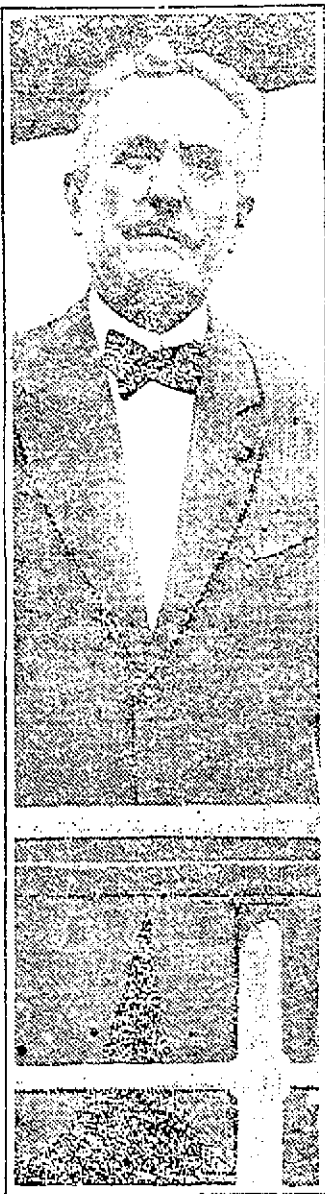

To our mind, in times like these, anything that we should do nothing about, that we should not worry over, that won't hurt us, is entitled to the highest place in human estimation. There are so many of the kind of things that the theory of relativity shines out like a beacon light in an unusually dark night. If Dr. Einstein could now find something else we do not have to do anything about, then there would be two of them, and relativity might not be so lonesome.

OFF TO FRANCE

Myron T. Herrick snipped on board the S. S. La France on his way to Paris to assume the post of United States ambassador. Herrick occupied that post under the Taft regime and proved to be the most popular one yet in Paris. He now succeeds Ambassador Walbridge. Herrick was lieutenant governor and governor of Ohio and was defeated as the republican candidate for senator.

Durable Larch

In Switzerland larch-poles are much used for vine-crops. They are never taken up, and see crop after crop of vines spring up, bear their fruit, and perish at their feet without showing symptoms of decay. The unadorned state in which larch remains when buried in the earth or immersed in water renders it an excellent material for water-pipes, for which purpose it is largely used in many parts of France.

FIREPROOF BOOTHS FOR MOVIES NOT ALWAYS REQUIRED

Approved Type of Machine May be Used in Factories Without Extra Fire Precaution

MADISON, Wis.—The industrial commission Friday entered an order permitting approved types of portable motion picture machines to be used without fireproof booths, in factories and offices where employees are assembled for instructional purposes.

In all cases where portable motion picture machines are used without booths, however, a tight metal cabinet must be provided and used for storing metal containers of films not in use.

The commission also announces that it will approve only those types of portable machines which have an incombustible housing and which provide for automatically insulating or cutting off the light and heat from the film and operating mechanism when it is not in motion. This is a modification from order heretofore enforced requiring all motion picture machines using inflammable films to be housed in fireproof booths.

Samples of salts recently sent to the laboratories of the United States geological survey from fields in western Texas show a percentage of potash as great as that found in the famous fields of Alsace and Germany.

BRITISH NOTE ON WAR DEBTS GIVEN TO SENATE COMMITTEE SOUGHT GENERAL AGREEMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C. —Special—
Correspondence supplied the senate finance committee by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Wadsworth today disclosed that the British government refused last fall to continue negotiations with the United States government for the funding of its debt on the ground that it might interfere with a general agreement among all the allied nations for the handling of war debts. In such an agreement the British government would have welcomed a general cancellation of inter-allied debts.

"Would Not be Considered"

The documents supplied the committee, as the result of inquiries by Senator La Follette included a letter written by Premier Lloyd George to President Wilson on Aug. 3, 1920 and a cablegram from the chancellor of the British exchequer to B. C. Lindsey, representative of the British treasury in the United States, which was given by him to former Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lettingwell.

The two communications brought immediate questions from members of the committee, and a statement from Secretary Mellon that the cancellation suggestion had not been broached to him since he assumed office and would not be considered it made.

Lloyd George's Letter

The text of the Lloyd George letter to President Wilson follows:

"I come now to the other question I wish to write you about, and that is the knotty problem of inter-allied indebtedness. Indeed, I promised Mr. Rathbone long ago that I would write to you about it, but I have had to put it off for one reason and another till now. The British and the French governments have been discussing during the last four months the question of giving fixity and definiteness to Germany's reparation obligations."

"The British government has stood steadily by the view that it was vital that Germany's liabilities should be fixed at a figure which was within the reasonable capacity to pay, and that this figure should be fixed without delay because the reconstruction of central Europe could not begin nor could the allies themselves raise money on the strength of Germany's obligation to pay the reparations until their liabilities had been exactly defined."

Treat All Same Way

"After great difficulties with his own people, Mr. Millerand found himself able to accept this view—but he pointed out that it was impossible for France to agree to accept anything less than it was entitled to under the treaty unless its debts to its allies and associates were treated in the same way."

"This declaration appeared to the British government eminently fair, but after careful consideration they came to the conclusion that it was impossible to remit any part of what was owed to them by France except as part and parcel of all around settlement of inter-allied indebtedness. 'I need not go into the reasons which led to this conclusion, which must be clear to you. But the principal reason was that the British public opinion would never support a one-sided arrangement at its sole expense and eventually embitter the relations between the American and British people, with calamitous results to the future of the world.'"

Must Apply All Around

"You will remember that Great Britain borrowed from the United States about half as much as its total loans to the allies, and after America's entry into the war it lent to the allies almost exactly the same amount as it borrowed from the United States."

"Accordingly the British government has informed the French government that it will agree to any equitable arrangement for the reduction or cancellation of inter-allied indebtedness, but that such arrangement must be one that applies all around. I recognize that in the midst of a presidential election and with congress not in session it is impossible for the United States to deal with this question in a practical manner, but the question is one of such importance to the future of Europe, and, indeed, to the relations between the allied and associated powers, that I should very much welcome any advice which you might feel yourself able to give me as to the best method of securing that the whole could be considered and settled by the United States government in concert with its associates at the earliest possible moment that the political situation in America makes it possible."

Gives Reason for Delay

"There is one other point which I would like to add. When the British government decided that it could not deal with this question of the debt owed to it by its allies except as part and parcel of an all around arrangement of inter-allied debts the chancellor of the exchequer told Mr. Rathbone that he could not proceed any further with the negotiations which they had been conducting with regard to the postponement of interest and the funding of Great Britain's debts to America."

"I should like to make it plain that this is due to no reluctance on the part of Great Britain to fund its debt but solely to the fact that it cannot bind itself by any arrangement which would prejudice the working of any inter-allied arrangement which may be reached in the future. If some method can be found for funding the British debt which does not prejudice the question the British government would be glad to fall in with it."

Suggests General Cancellation

The cablegram to Lindsey, dated February 1, 1920, was in part as follows:

"Turning to the more general considerations, it is evident that a financial crisis in America would greatly endanger the incipient recovery of continental Europe. It is impossible to foresee the consequences. With the continent a prey to bankruptcy and anarchy and the United States unable to provide credits of any sort owing to the internal crisis the world's position would be indeed serious."

"If I may venture on what I fear is controversial ground, I may say that it is largely because of these dangers that we should welcome a general cancellation of inter-allied governmental war debts."

"The existence of these international debts detours neutrals from giving assistance, checks private credits and will, I fear, prove a disturbing factor in future international relations."

Affects Fate of Funding Bill

In urging the relevancy of the inquiry which brought the allied indebtedness correspondence before the committee, Senator La Follette declared that "if appeals of this nature have heretofore been made by debtor nations, it is desirable that congress should know of it before granting the secretary of the treasury unlimited authority in the funding of allied loans."

Secretary Mellon pointed out that the bill pending before the committee did not give any authority to cancel debts and that the present administration was opposed to any such action. Senator La Follette admitted the pending bill did not go so far as to permit cancellation of debts, but insisted that the matter should be gone into.

Senator Reed of Missouri declared that the documents relative to foreign loans which he has examined "disclose a situation wholly unjustified and illegal," and the lines of inquiry pursued by Senators La Follette and Reed made it evident that the administration bill granting the secretary of the treasury authority to proceed with the funding of allied loans will have rough sailing, although Senator Dorr, chairman of the committee, has stated that action on the bill "will be expedited."

Asks Further Documents

The committee instructed the chairman to request the senate judiciary committee to turn over voluminous documents bearing on the subject of foreign loans which were supplied that committee by the treasury and state department last winter.

Secretary Mellon did not state whether there had been any change in the position of the British government since last August or not.

INJUNCTION STOPS NEW KRESGE STORE BUILDING AT BELOIT

JANESVILLE, Wis.—Pending injunctive proceedings to stop the work on the erection of the $85,000 Kresge building at the Central Bridge over Rock river at Beloit, officials arrested at Beloit agreed to stop construction work when they appeared before court commissioner Robert Cunningham Thursday. They were represented in court by Charles Pierce, Janesville attorney, and United States Attorney William D. Dougherty, appeared against them. An indefinite postponement of the hearing was agreed upon. Mr. Dougherty will file the papers to secure an injunction to restrain the further work on the Kresge building, as soon as possible.

The injunction is asked by the United States government on the grounds of criminal violation of the rivers and harbors act of 1890. The three men are charged with obstructing the navigable capacity of the Rock river at Beloit by staking abutments for an $85,000 store building.

FARMER KILLED BY LIGHTNING AT WORK IN FIELD

Arcadia Man Meets Death When Severe Storm Strikes Near the Village

Thomas Sobotta, a young farmer living two and a half miles east of Arcadia, was instantly killed on a blinder in his harvest field by lightning and considerable storm damage was done in that locality.

Windmills, silos, trees and farm buildings destroyed by wind were reported from several sections. The most serious farm damage, however, appears to be centered about Arcadia, Independence and Centerville. Here more than two score of windmills and silos were blown down. Lightning is reported to have killed several head of cattle in this region.

At Blair a large barn belonging to Chris Halvorson was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. More than 400 chickens and 75 tons of hay was lost.

Near Fountain City the wind did considerable damage to crops and throughout Buffalo county grain that had not been harvested was damaged extensively by the sweeping wind. Throughout Winona county the crop damage was reported to be quite heavy. Houston and Fillmore counties also suffered general crop damage.

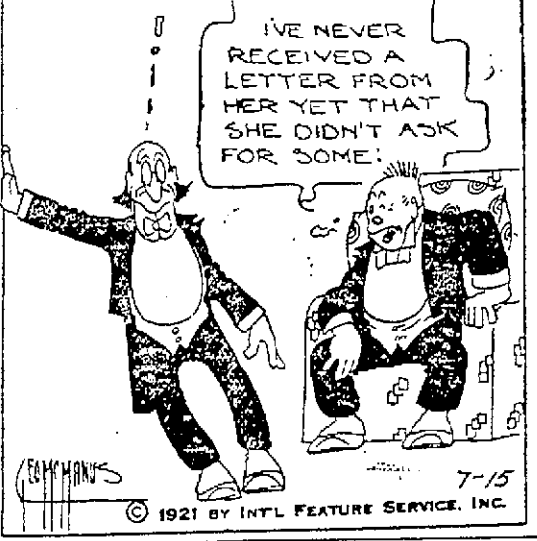

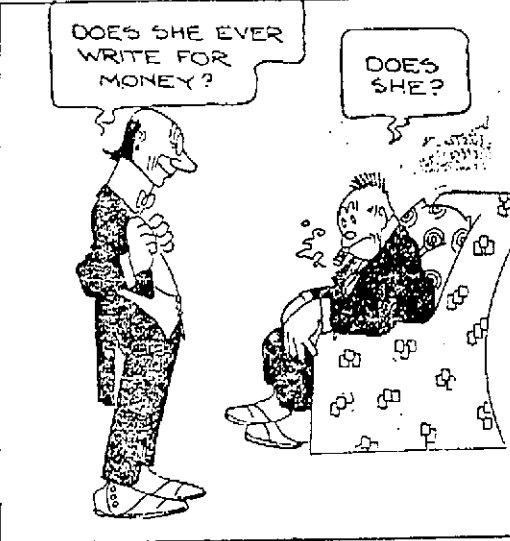

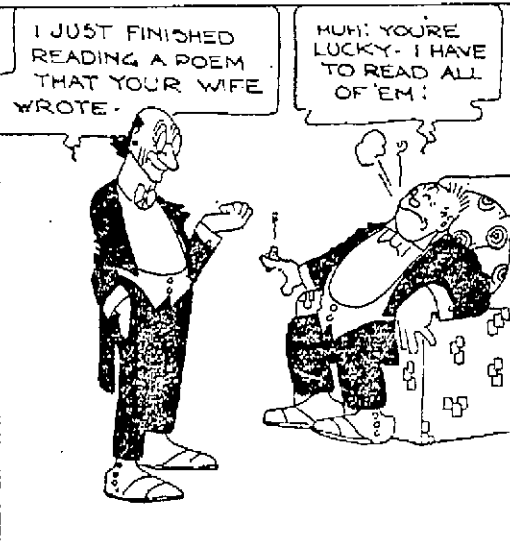

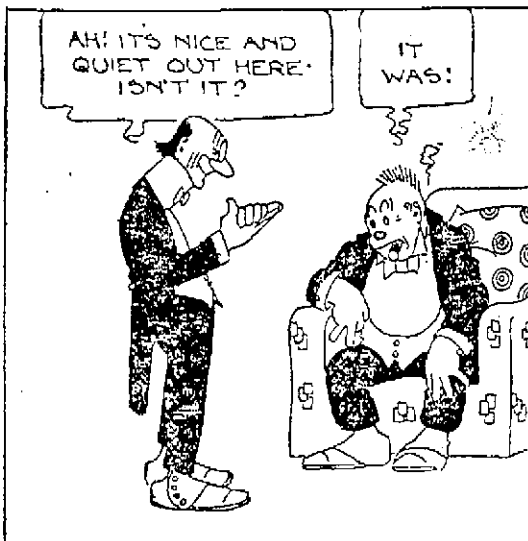

The plan of working by twilight was perhaps responsible for the death of Thomas Sobotta at Arcadia. He had plowed for the evening when the first shower hit but retreated his team to complete cutting in one field afterwards. Another storm approached with much lightning. A bolt hitting the blinder killed him instantly. One of the horses on the blinder also was killed. A farm hand discovered the accident a few minutes later.

Sobotta is 25 years old and is survived by a wife and child. He is well known in and about Arcadia.

"Zoo" in Ancient China

The ancient Chinese were always in the forefront when anything scientific was concerned. There is a record of the establishment of a Zoological Garden in China in 11 B. C. only they called it an "Intelligence Park." The ancient Greeks and Romans were fond of seeing strange animals, but they do not appear to have collections as such. The gladiators getting most of them. The modern zoological gardens had their origin during the middle ages when feudal magnates and royal persons had menageries. In the middle of the fifteenth century there were zoological gardens, aviaries and fish ponds in Mexico.

BRINGING UP FATHER

STATE ATTORNEYS SEEK INFORMATION ON NEW DRY LAW

Morgan's Office Flooded With Requests for Rulings on Enforcement Act

MADISON, Wis.—District attorneys of the state are flooding the office of the attorney general with requests for interpretation of the new prohibition enforcement law which supersedes the Mulberger act, and substitutes a new set of enforcement provisions.

Particular interest is in the provision requiring removal of bars over which non-intoxicating liquors are sold for consumption. Local prosecuting officers have been asking for interpretations of the law to determine the extent of this enforcement.

Licensing provisions bring further inquiry concerning whether or not ice cream parlors and manufacturing establishments which make the non-intoxicating drinks must be licensed. The attorney general has replied that in neither of these cases is a license required.

It is expected that considerable time will be required before the new measure is fully understood and all of its sections interpreted.

Fruit Goes to Waste

In the total movement of fruit in this country, it is stated that at least fifteen per cent of it is spoiled by careless or indifference in the handling of the fruit in the course of shipment.

A MESSAGE IN TRIANGLES

A message cut in stone, approximately 6,000 years old was discovered in recent excavations by Mr. S. H. Haebelein Warren at the Stone Age factory at Craigtreyd, Pembrokeshire, Wales. There are only three of these stone "plaques." One was found on the site of the lake dwellings at Blastedbury, and another is in the British Museum. Upon the Welsh plaque are engraved a number of irregular symbols. No one is certain of the significance of these signs, but they are believed to be mystic symbols having a definite principle in the series characteristic of a primitive cult. Unlike the other plaques, the symbols are all in triangles, and there are no squares. This engraving was done in Neolithic times, and the probability is that the men who worked in this stone axe factory were of the Iberian race, many evidences of which survive in the people of those parts of Wales today.

Deliciously tender

Where Do Wild Ducks Go?

When the wild ducks leave this section for their summer home, they give no inkling as to their destination and there has been some little curiosity among ornithologists on this point; so government officials are trapping some of these birds and banding them with the hope of learning what has long been secret. Being released some of them will be to John: "It's gone John! How do you account for that?"

SIMPLE FATHER

He was a good-hearted but rather simple-minded father, and he said to his son: "John, I've been informed that if anyone buried a half-dollar in the garden at night and let the moon shine on it the next morning it would be a five dollar goldpiece."

"Well, dad," answered the son, "I should try it; you never know your luck."

The father agreed. When morning arrived he hurried into the garden. The coin had disappeared. He rushed back into the house and exclaimed to John: "It's gone John! How do you account for that?"

John answered modestly: "All I can order from a mission-educated

MINNEAPOLIS SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA MAY DISBAND BECAUSE OF LABOR ROW

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, known throughout the country as one of the "major musical organizations of the middle west," may be disbanded. Trouble has arisen between the orchestra association and the Minneapolis Musicians' Union.

The issue is whether the members of the symphony orchestra, all of whom belong to this union, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, can give concerts in a public park where a band is employed, of whose members belong to another union.

The park board was asked by the Minneapolis Musicians' Union to regulate its contract with the other musical union, but refused to do so. The orchestra association objected to interference with its right to control the appearances of its orchestra.

In a letter to guarantors of the orchestra, E. L. Carpenter, president of the orchestra association, said: "No way was seen to continue it unless the musicians receded from their stand."

RUSH OF FORTUNE HUNTERS SWEEPS NORTH TO ARCTIC

Gold Seekers Flocking to Great Slave Regions by the Thousands

EDMONTON, Alta.—The rush to stake all claims in the Port Norman, Northwest Territories, fields has begun in earnest and each day now sees the tide of fortune seekers sweeping northward from Edmonton, Port McMurray, Peace River Crossing and other points. The marchers also include scores of experienced mineral prospectors bound for the sub-Arctic in quest of gold.

Every town, hamlet, trading post and river is swarming with activity of men striving desperately to be the first into the Arctic with the breaking of the ice in the Great Slave Lake. Not since the gold rush of 1897 to the Klondike and Alaskan gold fields has there been such an immense migration.

But the odyssey of the Yukon is being rewritten in the present rush in terms of modern transportation. The oil seekers making their way north travel in modern sleeping cars to the end of the northern railways and thence in comfortable river steamers and motor launches. One Canadian oil company is sending its scouting parties into the territories in all metal airplanes.

The moment the traveler leaves the river highway however, he is face to face with the still unconquered north. Portages must be negotiated with great hardships for those who are transporting heavy oil machinery. They get a taste of the once frightful "Edmonton trail" to Dawson City—the grimmest joke of the gold-seeking northland, where men died by the scores or went raving mad, and where the survivors who finally struggled through arrived at the Alaskan gold-fields one to two years late.

But men have learned the perils of the north since then and have taken advantage of the experience. Royal Canadian Mounted Police will not permit persons to leave the "jumping off" places in the north this time unless they are physically fit, properly equipped for a year's stay in the north country, and well supplied with funds.

The two chief ports of entry into the north are Peace River, about 300 miles northwest of Edmonton, and Port McMurray, almost an equal distance due north.

Many borrowers seem to think they are their brother's keeper. Perhaps styles are designated to cheat railroads on the age limit.

Government Specifications for Gasoline Do Not Mention Gravity

When the Government buys gasoline for Army or Navy use, it does not consider gravity. It specifies various temperatures at which definite amounts of the gasoline shall vaporize; in other words, it fixes the low and high boiling points, and specifies that the intermediate boiling point fractions must be so arranged as to boil off at the correct temperature to insure a maximum of service.

Red Crown

—the High-Grade Gasoline

Has a Perfect Chain of Boiling Point Fractions

Red Crown more than meets Government specifications. Its initial is about 40 degrees F. lower, meaning easier starting than the Government requires.

Red Crown has the correct range of boiling point fractions to insure quick getaway, smooth acceleration, and the correct range for tremendous power and speed. Red Crown is fast gas.

Red Crown is the best gasoline you can buy. It will give you better service, more power, more speed, and greater mileage per gallon. It is a waste of money to pay more than the price of Red Crown.

MADISON SITE SELECTED BY COMMITTEE FOR NEW STATE SOLDIER HOSPITAL

MADISON, Wis.—Parvill's point, near Governor's Island, Madison, was selected Friday by the special commission as the site for the new $250,000 Soldiers' Memorial hospital. As soon as a special sub-committee now working on plans, reports, construction of the new institution will be started.

The Wisconsin Memorial hospital will be devoted to care of the shell-shocked and other mental cases developed among soldiers of the past war. It will in all likelihood be directed by Major W. P. Lorenz of the Mendota psychiatric institute, who headed the 10th medical unit in the 32nd division overseas.

At a meeting on July 13, the location of the hospital was tentatively selected as between Waupaca and Parvill's point, in favor of the latter, following an offer from La Crosse, the commission directed Governor Plaine to obtain an opinion from the attorney general as to whether the site might be selected on other than state owned property.

The attorney general held on Thursday that it is not within the power of the commission to select the location of the hospital, in view of the statute which declared that the building had to be constructed on state-owned property. As a result the Madison location was arrived at.

No patient of the hospital can be used for clinical teaching under a ruling of the commission, the action being taken to prevent any attempt by the medical college of the University of Wisconsin from using the hospital as a clinical laboratory.

Provision is expected to be made for 200 beds in order to care for all cases. There are at present 150 men at Mendota suffering from mental illness who can be transferred, and many more men are living in the state plain to obtain an opinion from the

LA CROSSE STREET CARS CARRIED MILLION MORE PASSENGERS IN 1920 THAN DURING PREVIOUS YEAR REPORTS RATE COMMISSION

MADISON, Wis.—Revenue of street railways in all cities of the state, with the exception of Waupaca where there is a slight falling off, increased in Wisconsin during the past year, according to figures just compiled by the railroad commission.

A large increase was shown in Milwaukee and Superior which operate class A railways. Milwaukee revenue increased from $6,852,695 in 1919 to $7,999,339 in 1920, while the number of passengers rose from 124,940,031 to 132,249,619.

Superior street railways brought in revenue of $400,732 this past year and $410,519 the year before. The number of passengers carried rose from 8,210,395 to 8,614,653.

Class B urban systems showed a similar increase in all of the cities service. Revenue of the company at Oshkosh increased from $105,023 to $155,610, at Sheboygan from $58,475 to $82,792, at Madison from $309,051 to $326,323, at Eau Claire from $77,265 to $101,768, at Green Bay from $78,997 to $112,829, and at La Crosse from $197,620 to $266,598.

The number of passengers carried on the Class B roads rose in Oshkosh from 2,134,461 to 2,442,668, in Sheboygan from 1,120,592 to 1,302,437, in Madison from 5,660,131 to 6,794,942, in Eau Claire from 1,161,290 to 1,531,889, in Green Bay from 1,493,338 to 1,950,161, and in La Crosse from 3,648,619 to 4,548,868.

Class C street railways except for Waupaca showed a general increase in revenue and in passengers. The Wisconsin Rapids company showed an increase in revenue from $36,451 to $38,865, the Janesville company from $18,003 to $48,040, the Manitowish company from $43,941 to $51,111.

New York—"The secret of beauty is the proper care of the skin," says Miss Nilsson, the popular Metro star. "It only requires a few moments' time and anyone is more than paid for the little effort it takes. In the first place the skin should be kept scrupulously clean. Use a good cleansing cream (like cold cream) have found to be the best), follow this by bathing the face with warm water then rinse with cold water and dry thoroughly with a coarse towel. After this process select a beautifier which in addition to being a beautifier has a healing effect on the skin. The very best I have found for this purpose is derwillo, as it instantly beautifies the complexion and its continued use makes the results permanent." Derwillo takes the place of face powder, as it stays on better and is wonderful for a shiny nose, oily skin, yellow skin, freckles, tan, wrinkles and other facial blemishes. Just make this test: Put derwillo on one side of your face, then look in your mirror and compare it with the other side—you will need no further argument to convince you that nothing beautifies like derwillo. It imparts a

"WAITER AND THE CHEF"
NEW MUSICAL SHOW BY
GOLDEN'S "JUBILEE GIRLS"

"The Waiter and the Chef" is the musical comedy offering of "The Jubilee Girls" at the Riviera for today and Saturday. It is a splendid vehicle for the three comies, Hipp, Dooley, and Golden to exercise their abilities as comedy entertainers. The show opens with a snappy ensemble and immediately gets right in to a fast and furious comedy situation. Cohen (Dooley) prowls into a cafe looking for his wife, he hires Levy (Golden) for a detective. Easy the waiter (Hipp) gets mixed up in the affair. Cohen and Levy have. Easy is the original slippery cuss. The film-Dans the patrons of the cafe, beats them at all the confidence games he pulls on them and succeeds in "bailing" everything up most beautifully. The song numbers for the two days include several fine solo numbers, besides the selections for Jubilee Trio, Mahal Spencer, Hipp and Harry Powers. Miss Spencer will sing "Make Believe," Conrad Hipp, "Ain't We Got Fun," James Dooley, "He Comes Up Smiling," and J. Allan Bennett, the queen of synecopation, will offer "He's a Darn Good Man to Have Hanging Around."

ANCESTOR WORSHIP REPORTED ON THE WANE AMONG JAPS

Head of Shinto Affairs Bureau Expresses Concern Over Indifference of Modern Youth

TOKIO.—The indifference of Japanese students above the middle school to ancestor worship is causing the government considerable concern, according to K. Yamada, chief of the Shinto affairs bureau in the Home Department, who addressed the general conference of the Shinto Priests of Japan. Ancestor worship is the fundamental religious custom in this country and is closely related to national veneration for the imperial family and the imperial ancestors.

"It is regrettable that the higher the education students receive in this country, the more indifferent is their faith in ancestral spirits," said Mr. Yamada.

Judging from the number of visitors to the shrines and the amount of contributions such pilgrims make, there is every reason to conclude that despite the growing predominance of foreign objectionable ideas in this country since the late war, the spirit of worshipping ancestral shrines still remains intact.

"A serious fact, however, is that whereas the elementary school children are always sincere and earnest in their faith, students studying in schools higher than middle schools show indifference towards such a matter." The worshipping of ancestral shrines is so closely associated with the national character of the empire that the above tendency cannot in the least be ignored as anything but serious. It is the authorities' decision that some proper steps be taken for the correction of the above undesirable state affairs, assisted by the Shinto priests.

FRECKLES

Now Is The Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any drugist and apply a little of it at night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Consecration
If you want to live in this world, doing the duty of life, knowing the blessings of it, doing your work heartily, and yet not absorbed by it, remember that the one power whereby you can so act is, that all shall be consecrated to Christ.—Alexander MacLaren.

inundation of a portion of the city when a fourteen foot wall of water rushed down the White river canyon on the city.

Mice Object to Mint
There are many uses for mint but it is least known in the role as a mouse eradicator. It is said that mice will not eat or even venture near anything flavored with mint. These pests cannot bear the smell of it, and will never eat any food if mint, either fresh or dry, has been scattered near. If a bunch of the herbs is hung in the pantry mice will never venture inside. A strong decoction of mint will cure chapped hands. Our forefathers used it for making the teeth white, and it forms a constituent of many tooth pastes in use today.
It has frequently been commented upon that the mackerel in the tank of the Brighton Aquarium always swim one way, from right to left, in their endless journey, but no one has ever made any convincing explanation of their conduct.
